

Direct Payments

Do you know how many people with high support needs have Direct Payments (or other kinds of individualised funding)?

Are local support services good at working with people with high individual support needs, their families and their circles of support?

Have you thought about things like Trust Funds and other ways of making Direct Payments work for people who might find it difficult to manage their own Direct Payment?